Thanks for the update, Tricia, and congratulations on your new move!

Like Tricia, things have been busy for me lately. I have realized that studying for my registration exams and keeping up with the workload of our growing firm is keeping me so busy that I have not been able to give the CBB the time it deserves this year. That's not what I intended when I joined, of course; the CBB is an important group for the City to fund and support, and the activities and events that result from our group are getting more attention and more prestige every year! It is a good time to be involved, and a great group to be a part of, but I am feeling increasingly guilty as meetings get missed and event participation becomes too much to juggle. I would prefer that my spot be filled by someone who can be more active than I can be right now—but I'd like to hope that I could re-join the group when I have more time and energy to devote, so please don't give up on me!

During the nearly 2 years I have been on the board, I have felt proud to be involved with the CBB. I apologize for getting too busy to do more, but I appreciate everyone's understanding. I'll miss our discussions and meeting debates! My term ends in November; I would like to make it to one more event this fall, and I will try to attend the workshop in October.

Thank you, everyone—
