Training/Experience:

At UF, I am an environmental policy major under the College of Natural Resources and Environment (Fall 2000-present). I am currently enrolled in, and will be taking, a number of classes dealing with environmental policy, wildlife issues, natural resource management, and ecotourism.

I also serve on the University Environmental Health and Science Committee with professional administration, which comes up with rules for the university dealing with beautification and environmental safety issues.

During my high school career (1996-2000), I worked at Sheridan Oaks Forest in Hollywood, FL. There I helped beautify this environmentally sensitive piece of property by removing invasive exotics. I even did award winning research on the invasive air potato on the property, learning the exotic's weakness in order to remove it.

While at Sheridan Oak Forest, I also assisted in designing a nature trail for the blind.
