To whom it may concern,

Unfortunately, I must announce my resignation from the student adjunct position on the Development Review Board. I will be moving away shortly to pursue a graduate degree in civil engineering.

I have thoroughly enjoyed my opportunity to be involved with the review process during this exciting time in Gainesville's development and wish to express my sincerest thanks. I will certainly continue to look for similar opportunities wherever I go.

I will also publicize the position in the College of Design Construction and Planning and the College of Engineering and hopefully another student interested in the development review process will step forward shortly. If I can be of any further assistance, please feel free to contact me at (352) 234-3278 or c.m.ellis@ufl.edu. The phone number will change shortly after I move, but the email address will function indefinitely. Again, I am tremendously grateful for the exciting and rewarding experience that I was able to take advantage of with the DRB.

Most Sincerely,

Christopher M. Ellis, A.M.ASCE, LEED AP
