The child tax credits have ended and we have seen an increase in requests for assistance. Each time a daycare shut down in the last wave of the Covid-Omicron variant, it meant that single parents could not go to work. With another new variant of Coronavirus spreading through Asia, we anticipate that additional support will be needed in the coming months. Therefore, the saying "one paycheck away from homelessness" is more relevant than ever for so many working families.

We know that 68% of all persons identified as chronically homeless were homeless as children. Our goal is to work with families with children to help them stabilize so they do not become chronically homeless in the years to come.

Our organization helps the most vulnerable Alachua County residents - children experiencing homelessness. Families from lower income households have been disproportionately impacted by Covid and it has led to increased housing instability and increased food insecurity. On average, 83% of the families we serve are single mothers with children and 78% identify as persons of minority status. All families are low income, most are extremely low income at the time of entry into our programs. We provide myriad wrap around services: help find daycare for children, help parents find jobs and prepare for work, serve as landlord liaison, provide meals, diapers, clothing, household supplies and furniture once a new rental home is identified.

Family Promise of Gainesville has helped over 2,500 people out of homelessness in the Greater Gainesville area since it began operations in 1998. In 2021, our clients achieved a 95% success rate -- meaning once they are housed they stay housed for at least one year after graduating from the program. We offer rental assistance, homeless diversion and prevention programs, a 90-day shelter program and affordable rental units to provide a wide array of options to fit the needs of each client. We focus on families with children under 18 in their custody. The statistics for 2021 are as follows:

- 95% of families served remain housed one year later
- 929 rental and utility assistance services provided
- 5,660 meals provided
- 4,960 shelter nights provided
- 30,000+ pounds of furniture moved and donated to families in our programs

215 people housed overall
3,000 volunteer hours donated
4 cars donated
7 full time staff and approximately 600 volunteers completed this important work.

Our case management team employs on Housing First, Motivational Interviewing and Progressive Engagement. These evidence based best practices are create wrap around services for families (including food, childcare vouchers, landlord relations and housing deposits, furniture donations, and many more services) to remove barriers to remaining stably housed. This holistic approach is highly effective and has consistently resulted in one of the highest success rates in the nation.

We do all of this with only 7 full time staff. We are a small but mighty organization that is committed to ending childhood homelessness and using our grant dollars wisely to invest in the future of local children.

The shelter program is the heart of our organization, because it is how volunteers connect to our programs. Prior to the pandemic, the shelter was all-volunteer-run every night of the year. Volunteers provided the food, physical space and personnel to operate the shelter from 5 pm to 7 am each night of the year. Volunteers also donate furniture for every family who graduates from our programs and has need of furniture. Furnishings and household supplies are given to each graduate, which saves the family approximately $3,000 to $5,000 as they start over in their new home.

We achieve these successes by leveraging relationships with other nonprofits in the community, including Rebuilding Together, Peaceful Paths and Grace Marketplace, The Giving Garden, Aces in Motion and over 35 faith communities. Our program is not faith-based, but is built upon the kindness of the Gainesville community working to help their neighbors in need of a home. The kindness of strangers is often the 'secret sauce' of our program -- volunteers lend a hand, let children play and color and have a healthy meal. All of these things help a family feel normal as they move from the trauma of living in their cars or outdoors, and into the safety of our shelter program, and then to a home of their own.

Pandemic changes to your organizationPandemic-related changes to priorities and goals

Briefly explain how the COVID pandemic has changed your organization's priorities and goals.

First, we would like to explain the revenue and expenses noted above. While this looks like a very large Net Income, the funds were used to purchase and renovate a dilapidated four-plex apartment building. That facility was originally purchased to provide affordable rental options (a year long lease) for those who graduated from our programs. When the pandemic hit, we quickly pivoted to use these four units as shelter when we could no longer house families in our 'rotational shelter model' operated by volunteers in a communal setting. Due to the lack of affordable housing and the unique circumstances of several families, we need to identify more shelter units to sustain our shelter program into 2023.

GOALS AND PRIORITIES: When we lost our rotational shelter structure, we lost over $34,000 per month of in-kind support. We created a new strategic plan to obtain more housing options, keep high quality case management, and engage volunteers and the entire community to support our programs.

Housing: We set goals of purchasing or renovating at least 10 rental units to keep them permanently affordable for our housing program clients. We applied for and were awarded a grant from the TD Foundation. We have shifted our focus to providing efficiency units within our partners at Westminster Presbyterian Church in the 'mid-term' of the next two years. This project is critical to the success of our organization as we transition to an endemic Covid response instead of pandemic. These efficiency units will better serve as a shelter in the short run and are affordable alternatives to hotel rooms for families in our 90-day shelter program.

Case management and Services: We quickly shifted operations to focus on service delivery remotely, to allow more flexibility and safety for clients. This meant putting all of our forms online, creating online trainings, and identifying new partnerships to help those working in the service industry who were most impacted by Covid-related layoffs or work stoppage. For example, we applied for and were awarded a grant to create employment opportunities for our families interested in gaining IT or data-related Google certifications.

New Partnerships: We created new service delivery partnerships to reduce food insecurity, identified housing and hotel rental options for shelter, and found new ways to provide wrap-around supports for our clients. This three pronged approach of creating more affordable housing options, holistic case management, and providing new ways for the community to partner with our organization are the main components of our latest Strategic Plan.

Family Promise has experienced exponential growth in the last five years. We need this ARPA support to sustain our organization's important work. Creating a flexible infrastructure in our shelter system will be critical for future waves of the pandemic, and that this request for support for our Westminster project will help us achieve that flexibility.

Pandemic-related changes to your organization's operations*

Please describe how your operations have changed during the pandemic from a staffing and service delivery standpoint.

We have changed our entire shelter system and as a result lost over $34,000 per month of in-kind support.

*Prior to the pandemic, our shelter was located inside faith facilities (often a Sunday school room became a hotel room for four families at a time during the 90-day shelter program). This was a highly cost effective method of serving families. New volunteers each night in a communal setting was not conducive during a pandemic. So we switched to providing shelter for at least four families at a time in rental units or hotel rooms. This costs approximately $5000 per month in cash outlay.

*Our shelter has been at 100% to 150% of our previous capacity--guests live in apartments we have rented, or hotel rooms.

*Meal provision was at 300% of our previous capacity from April through September 2020, thanks to a partnership with Working Food. Volunteers still provide meals for families every day of the week.

*We purchased and renovated 4 affordable housing units in partnership with Rebuilding Together North Central Florida, Matchmaker Realty, Alachua County, the TD Foundation and First Federal Bank.

We hope to create five more units to house families in 2022 at the Westminster House. Monarch Design has donated the plans to renovate the interior of a building owned by Westminster Presbyterian Church. Like we did on our quad renovation, we will partner with Rebuilding Together to keep the costs low, using volunteer labor whenever possible. This four-way partnership of three nonprofits and one builder is unique and one we hope to replicate throughout the community. If local faith congregations have empty buildings which can be converted to housing, each congregation can support the families involved and this should benefit the vulnerable families involved.

We will not return to our previous rotational shelter structure until May 2022, at which time we will have a reduced capacity of only two families. We strive to help at least four families at once, so we will still need funds to provide shelter to the other two families, and while we complete the Westminster project.

Even when the pandemic recedes, we must wait for volunteers to feel safe returning to our shelter. We need 13 locations to provide one week of housing each quarter of the year. Given concerns over the pandemic and faith congregation losses of attendees, we currently have only 8 of the 13 sites needed to restart our shelter program. And those 8 sites have only agreed to house two families at a time instead of four. This means we must house our shelter's four families in hotels and rented apartments. That is a tremendous expense that is not sustainable. That is why the Westminster units will be critical to our shelter program's continued success.

We hired one person to handle an additional rental assistance and homeless prevention program during the pandemic. That position will end June 30th, but the need for temporary shelter and permanent affordable housing will remain.

Impact

Description of Need as Specifically Related to Coronavirus*

Please provide a description of how your organization continues to be impacted by the coronavirus pandemic, operationally and/or programmatically.

Our shelter has lost its entire method of service delivery and a substantial part of our volunteer force. It will take time for us to rebuild this volunteer network. That time will involve added expenses associated with the shelter and several other programs. Our clients continue to be impacted by Coronavirus. If they or their children test positive, parents cannot work and may get behind on rent. As a new wave of Covid is on the horizon, we expect vulnerable families will continue to need our support in the coming year.

This project is a direct response to lessons learned from Coronavirus and will provide:

1. Shelter Flexibility: Provide the funds to create five new units of shelter critical for the long term success of the organization. We have an innovative partnership between three nonprofits to achieve this. Westminster Presbyterian Church will sign a use agreement with Family Promise. Family Promise will work with Rebuilding Together and a local contractor to renovate a 3,000 SF building to create five housing units which in the short run can be occupied by our shelter clients, and in the long run can be used as affordable housing for smaller families who need additional support beyond the 90-day shelter program.

2. Connections to Work: The Westminster project will also create an office and computer lab for our clients to be part of the Grow with Google program that connects our clients to job opportunities in IT-related fields. Mentors help clients complete Google certifications, and case managers coordinate other certification programs such as CNA licensure to help our clients increase their earning potential. Even small needs such as a $27.99 pair of black rubber-soled shoes required to start a job can be a critical way to help a family stay housed. Without the shoes, the mother cannot start her new job, but she doesn't have the funds to purchase this required uniform component. Our case management team communicates with clients to identify barriers to work (which are inherently barriers to housing). We need approximately $20,000 per year for a direct needs assistance fund to "Connect to Work" those who have been adversely impacted by Covid and recent economic upheaval. We will fund this from other sources.

3. Sustained programs until we can fully return to our pre-pandemic shelter system: Before the Westminster project can be built, we will still need funds to operate our shelter to cover the loss of in-kind donations that previously ran our shelter. This is estimated at $5,000 per month for 18 months or $60,000 including unit rentals, Covid testing kits and supplies, and case management for shelter guests whether in our 'rotational shelter' or in rentals we provide for up to four families at a time in our 90-day shelter.

This represents a total request of $447,534 to support families with low incomes who face homelessness. This request is matched directly with $108,014 and indirectly with over $180,000 of grants.

Population Impact*

Indicate if your services are directed at populations that have been disproportionately impacted by the COVID pandemic. (Identify at least one category: race, gender, ethnicity, geography, income)

We serve families with children who are near or experiencing homelessness. All families earn less than 50% of Area Median Income. We accept families in any form. But all are similarly housing and food insecure.

Disparity*

What disparity does this population experience that this program addresses? Examples: home ownership, income, health, educational attainment, etc.

Our program provides the tools necessary to increase housing stability for families with children. These families often live in generational poverty and face disparities of education, health and income.

Supplemental Disparity Information

For organizations with gross revenue of more than $1 million, show data to demonstrate existing disparities and impact of COVID on the population identified, including local data if possible. Examples of data can be related to health, socioeconomic status, housing, or factors specific to the program.

The majority of our clients identify as minority status and live below the poverty line. Most are employed in service sector jobs and we know these families are most impacted by Covid both in terms of health impacts of Covid (more susceptible to Covid-complications (<https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/health-equity/race-ethnicity.html>); and in terms of employment disruptions.

Our length of stay in shelter has increased dramatically due to Covid. It was near 45 days in shelter and last year was approximately 89 days in shelter. It has taken families longer to get back on their feet, and longer to find housing as a result of Covid and rental increases noted below.

The cost of housing has increased 11% per year for the last two years in Gainesville, while wages in the service sector have not increased correspondingly. Therefore, it is even harder for families to find and maintain affordable housing (<https://www.rentdata.org/gainesville-fl-msa/2021>).

Number of individuals served*

Indicate the total amount of individuals who will be directly impacted by this program.

25 families per year for at least 10 years will benefit from Westminster project. That is about 1,000 people.

Grant-Budget FP 2022 ARPA final submission.xlsx

Sustainability*

What are the long-term strategies for funding this project/program at the end of the grant period?

There is another strain of Covid that could once again set back our shelter re-start and we cannot sustain our current structure of hotel and apartment rental. That is why this program is critical. We originally thought we would return to shelter January 1, 2022. So we created long term leases for families with special circumstances. However, when the Omicron wave hit, our communal shelter was pushed back and we had to rent hotel room again. We have learned from these pandemic 'waves' and will keep the Westminster units as shelter for two years to provide the flexibility.

Once the Westminster units are created, Family Promise will have the flexibility to use them if Covid strains become unsafe for communal shelter. That is our 'mid-term' strategy. In the long run, these units can be used as families transition from our rotational shelter into these efficiency units and begin paying 30% of their income toward rent. The rent will be used to sustain the operations of the building.

Financial oversight*

How is your organization's board and/or finance committee evaluating the financial health of your organization? What types of financial documents do they review and how often?

Family Promise has financial controls recommended by an independent account and the Family Promise national organization that include: A written financial policy for check approval and bids, a regular independent audit and review, and oversight from numerous grantor agencies. As part of these controls, the board has voted to maintain at least a three month cash reserve. Additionally, we have no outstanding debt at this time. The finance committee also meets regularly to review and set the annual budget.

The board of directors reviews monthly profit and loss and balance sheets. The board treasurer reviews bank reconciliations, all checks over $2,500 receive additional scrutiny and documentation. There is also a volunteer CPA who reviews the bookkeepers work periodically to align with GAAP.

The last seven years have no findings in any of the independent audits or reviews and Family Promise of Gainesville is a 501c3 in good standing in the state of Florida.

Chris Polischuck: The Final Rule prescribes a non-exhaustive list of eligible services to provide housing stability, including rent support, shelter services for homeless persons, counseling services, and affordable housing. Capital expenditures which support these services are also eligible expenses. Family Promise has stated in their application that their services are provided exclusively to disproportionately impacted (low income) families.

As such, these proposed services are eligible for ARPA award under the following expenditure codes:

- 2.2 Household Assistance: Rent, Mortgage and Utility Aid
- 2.5 Household Assistance: Eviction Prevention
- 3.10 Housing Support: Affordable Housing
- 3.11 Housing Support: Services for Unhoused Persons
