

IS THIS HEAVEN?

Take A Look At Cleveland And Decide For Yourself

Today's Cleveland
 is a thriving,
 high spirited
 metropolis combining the best of big-city life with the easy ambiance of the heartland. It's a community rich in history,
 heritage and spirit that dazzles residents and visitors alike.

- With one of the nation's largest metropolitan park systems, Cleveland is surrounded by a 100 mile ring of parks - the aptly named Emerald Necklace. These 19,000-plus acres have something for every lover of the outdoors, including golf courses, bike and bridle paths, toboggan runs and cross country skiing trails.

- The city's northern edge is washed by the blue of Lake Erie, the world's 11th largest freshwater lake. Cleveland enjoys more lake shore than any metropolitan area in the world.

- Northeast Ohio is home to 22 colleges and universities, many of which partner with businesses to develop and commercialize cutting-edge technology. They also work closely with government and local organizations to apply the newest thinking to quality-of-life issues.

- University Circle, one of the world's greatest enclaves for the arts, education and science, is located just minutes from downtown Cleveland.

- Greater Cleveland is home to some 80 ethnic groups, speaking more than 60 languages. Many are concentrated in Cleveland's historic ethnic neighborhoods, such as Little Italy and Slavic Village, replete with their own distinctive churches, restaurants and shops.

- Greater Cleveland is the headquarters for more than 110 corporations with revenues in excess of $100 million, including a dozen Fortune 500 firms, and is home to around 150 international companies representing some 25 countries.

JUST SOLD ALL THE
SPORTS TEAMS IN CLEVELAND TO PEOPLE IN OTHER CITIES.

Gordon Bell, M.D.
Cleveland Clinic
Foundation

Did you know that when you're downtown, you're within easy walking distance of all the professional sports action in Cleveland? Dr. Gordon Bell, of the Department of Orthopedics/Spinal Surgery at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, knew it and he used that fact to sell Cleveland to the International Society for the Study of the Lumbar Spine for its annual meeting.

This meeting will bring more than 400 people to Cleveland and inject over $770,000 into the local economy. For his efforts, Dr. Bell has received kudos from that organization, his peers and the city of Cleveland. He's also earned a place on the Convention and Visitors Bureau's Team Cleveland. You can become a member of Team Cleveland, too. If you belong to an organization or society that needs a place to hold a meeting or convention, and you want to find out more about how you can earn recognition and other rewards by selling Cleveland as a meeting destination, call 1-877-TEAM CVB.

Celebration Ceremony

Cleveland's Celebration Ceremony is Tradition with a Twist

This year's Celebration Ceremony is Cleveland's annually, Gund Arena was the site for the 1997 NBA All-Star Weekend and will host the 2000 United States Figure Skating Association National Championships.

Today's brightest stars have an Olympic Games ceremony, Live musical entertainment will be provided by a nationally-renowned entertainer for the spectacle which begins at 7:30 p.m.

The venue, Gund Arena, is the home of the Cleveland Cavaliers (NBA), Cleveland Rockers (WNBA) and the Cleveland Lumberjacks (IHL). This first-class arena, in the heart of downtown Cleveland, hosts approximately 200 events each year and welcomes more than 2 million spectators through its doors annually. Gund Arena was the site for the 1997 NBA All-Star Weekend and will host the 2000 United States Figure Skating Association National Championships.

Today's brightest stars have an Olympic Games ceremony, Live musical entertainment will be provided by a nationally-renowned entertainer for the spectacle which begins at 7:30 p.m.

The University Hospitals Health System 1999 AAU Junior Olympic Games will offer free transportation to athletes and coaches to and from the Celebration Ceremony through a shuttle service. Buses will transport passengers from designated stops throughout the city to the Ceremony and return them to the pick-up points after the event. Athletes and coaches may sign-up for the service by the first-ever "Athlete Avenue," a special entertainment area for athletes and their families, will be at the Cleveland Convention Center, near athlete registration. The Convention Center, site of 11 sports, will serve as the central hub of activity for the Games. "Athlete Avenue" will feature interactive fun and games, special shows and activities, souvenir sales and information booths and displays.

Check-out the fun and festivities at "Athlete Avenue!!!"

AAU Junior Olympic

The AAU Junior Olympic Games began 33 years ago

at the nation's capitol, Washington D.C., with two sports: swimming and track and field. The inaugural games marked the first time in the history of the AAU Youth Sports Program that two national championships were held at the same time.

"There is nothing junior about it" has become the phrase associated with the AAU Junior Olympic Games over the years as the event has blossomed from 523 participating athletes in 1967 to more than 12,000 registered participants in 1998. The AAU Junior Olympic Games hopes to continue to expand and flourish into the 21st century as the popularity of sport and the attention of the youth in America intensifies.

The AAU Junior Olympic Games is known as the largest national multi-sport event for the youth of America today.

It has become the showcase event of the AAU Sports Program. The AAU Junior Olympic Games prides itself with turning-out the nation's most outstanding athletes year in and year out. Listed below are just a few of the AAU Junior Olympic Games Alumni.

The Games popularity now represents all 50 states, several United States' territories, and American citizens on foreign soil. More than 25 different cities have hosted the Games since its beginning. In 1998, the seven-city Hampton Roads region of Virginia, was the site of another highly successful and well-received Games.

What is the # AAU?

The Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) is one of the largest non-profit, volunteer, sports organizations in the United States. A multi-sport organization, the AAU is dedicated exclusively to the promotion and development of amateur sports and physical fitness programs.

The AAU was founded in 1888 to establish standards and uniformity in amateur sport.

During its early years, the AAU served as a leader in international sport by representing the U.S. to international sports federations and in Olympic Games. After the Amateur Sports Act of 1978, the AAU has focused its efforts on providing sports programs for all participants of all ages beginning at the grass roots level.

The philosophy of "Sports for All, Forever," is shared by nearly 500,000 participants and more than 50,000 volunteers. The AAU is divided into 58 distinct associations. These associations annually sanction more than 32 sports programs, 250 national

For the past three years, the AAU and World Disney World have joined forces to develop the world's premier sports destination—Disney's Wide World of Sports™ Complex. By the year 2000, more than 40 AAU events will take center stage there.

Parking in Downtown Cleveland

Parking in downtown Cleveland, especially around the Convention Center can be a problem. The city has a limited number of spaces. Visitors are strongly encouraged to use the RTA (see page 4). Details of a downtown parking plan, using nearby city-owned lots and a shuttle system, will be mailed to coaches and athletes later this year. You can also check on up-to-date parking information on the official Games website: www.cleveland.com/trgames
