

City of Gainesville Fair Housing Ordinance

Chapter 8 of the Gainesville City Ordinance prohibits discrimination in housing based on a protected class. This includes sexual orientation, race, color, gender, age, religion, national origin, marital status, disability and gender identity. In May 2020 citizenship status, lawful source of income, veteran status, status as a victim of domestic violence, victim of dating violence and victim of stalking were also added as additional protected classes.

If you believe that you have been subjected to housing discrimination based on your protected class, please contact:
