FROM: Planning & Development Services Department DATE: August 4, 2015
 Staff

SUBJECT: Petition HP-15-40. Aher & Sarit Sela, owners. Ad Valorem Tax Exemption for conversion of a room into a master bathroom in a single-family dwelling. Located at 405 NE 10th Avenue. This building is contributing to the Northeast Residential Historic District.

Recommendation

Staff recommends approval of Petition HP-15-40 for a "Part 1" ad valorem tax exemption based on the following:

1. The property is an eligible property because it is a contributing structure and
2. The proposed improvements are eligible.

Project Description

The property is located at 405 NE 10th Avenue. The contributing structure was built in 1938 according to the Alachua County Property Appraisers Office. The property is zoned RSF-3 and is approximately 0.27 acres in size. The building is a contributing structure to the Northeast Historic District.

The applicant is proposing to convert a small room attached to the master bedroom into a master bathroom. The new bathroom design would match the original designs of the existing 2.5 bathrooms in the house including black and white subway floor and wall tiles. Renovation will include:

- Installation of plumbing piping and fixtures
- Interior paint
- Installation of black and white subway floor and wall tiles

Basis for Approval – Secretary of the Interior’s Standards for Rehabilitation

Section 25-61 et seq of the City Code of Ordinances (see Exhibit 3) authorizes ad valorem tax exemptions for historic properties. As part of its review, the Historic Preservation Board must determine whether “the proposed improvement is consistent with the Secretary of the Interior’s Standards for Rehabilitation and Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings and is therefore an eligible improvement.” Staff will assess the application relative to each standard.

The relevant Secretary of the Interior’s Standards (Department of Interior regulations, 36 CFR 67) for this project are listed below:

1. A property shall be used for its historic purpose or be placed in a new use that requires minimal change to the defining characteristics of the building and its site and environment.

2. The historic character of a property shall be retained and preserved. The removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that characterize a property shall be avoided.

Compatible – The property will maintain its historic residential use. The applicant will maintain the architectural features and the spatial relationships that characterize the structure and its site and environment.

5. Distinctive features, finishes, and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a property shall be preserved.

6. Deteriorated historic features shall be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement of a distinctive feature, the new feature shall match the old in design, color, texture, and other visual qualities and, where possible, materials. Replacement of missing features shall be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.

Compatible – The proposed work will not adversely affect distinctive features, materials, or finishes.

9. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction shall not destroy historic materials that characterize the property. The new work shall be differentiated from the old and shall be compatible with the massing, size, scale, and architectural features to protect the historic integrity of the property and its environment.

Compatible – No exterior work is proposed for the bathroom addition except as may be needed for the routing of ventilation flutes on the roof.

Respectfully submitted,

Ralph Hilliard

OVERVIEW

The Historic Preservation Board (HPB) is an advisory board to the City of Gainesville City Commission, composed of citizens who voluntarily, without compensation, commit their time and expertise to the stewardship of historic resources in our community.

The HPB approval is a procedure which occurs for alterations, construction, restorations, or other significant changes to the appearance of an structure in Gainesville's Historic Districts which have an impact on the significant historical, architectural, or cultural materials of the structure and/or the district. The City's historic review guidelines are available online at planning.cityofgainesville.org and within the Land Development Code, Section 30-112.

After submission of an application, the Historic Preservation Planner prepares a written recommendation for the board meeting which addresses whether the proposed changes are compatible with the criteria of the SECRETARY OF INTERIOR'S STANDARDS FOR REHABILITATION and the City of Gainesville's HISTORIC PRESERVATION REHABILITATION AND DESIGN GUIDELINES. Once staff has prepared and completed the staff report, an Agenda of the proposed meeting and the staff report will be posted online approximately 3 to 5 days prior to the HPB meeting and can be found at planning.cityofgainesville.org - Citizen Advisory Boards - Historic Preservation Board.

The applicant and/or owner of the property should be present at the Historic Preservation Board meeting and be prepared to address inquiries from the board members and/or the general public. The HPB meeting is a quasi-judicial public hearing with procedural requirements. The review body may approve, approve with conditions, or deny projects. It is not necessary for owners to be present at the HPB meeting if your COA has been staff approved.

In addition to a Certificate of Appropriateness (COA), a building permit may be required for construction from the Building Department. This is a separate process with submittal requirements. Building permits will not be issued without proof of a COA and the Historic Preservation Planner signing the building permit.

After the application approval, the COA is valid for one year and null and void if construction does not begin within six months.

Please post the CERTIFICATE OF APPROPRIATENESS at or near the front of the building.

TAX SAVINGS FOR HOMEOWNERS OF HISTORIC PROPERTIES

The improvements to your historic property may qualify for a property tax exemption. The City of Gainesville permits an Ad Valorem property tax exemption for renovations, rehabilitations, and restorations to contributing properties within Historic Districts. The City adopted an Ad Valorem Tax Exemption which permits 100 percent of the assessed value of the eligible improvements and remains in effect for ten years.

The amount of the exemption shall be determined by the Alachua County Property Appraiser based upon its usual process for post-construction inspection and appraisal of property following rehabilitation or renovation. The duration of the exemption shall continue regardless of any change in the authority of the City to grant such exemptions or any change in ownership of the property. In order to retain an exemption, however, the historic character of the property, and improvements which qualified the property for an exemption, must be maintained over the period for which the exemption was granted.

This is an excerpt from the Gainesville Code of Ordinances, ARTICLE IV. TAX EXEMPTION FOR HISTORIC PROPERTIES Sec. 25-61—66

An Overview of the Application Process:

An applicant (owner of record or authorized agent) seeking an ad valorem tax exemption for historic properties must file with the city manager or designee the two-part Historic Preservation Property Tax Exemption Application with "Part 1: Preconstruction Application" (Part 1) completed. In addition, the applicant shall submit the following:

A completed application for a Certificate of Appropriateness for the qualifying restoration, renovation, or rehabilitation.

An application fee of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) to be determined by the city manager or designee based on the estimated cost of the work to be performed and the administrative costs to be incurred by the city in processing the application and monitoring compliance.

The City of Gainesville Historic Preservation Board (HPB) shall review Part 1 applications for exemptions. The HPB shall determine whether the property is an eligible property and whether the Part 1 proposed improvement is consistent with the Secretary of Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings and is therefore an eligible improvement.

Upon completion of work specified in the "Part 1" application, the applicant shall submit a "Part 2: Final Application for Review of Completed Work" (Part 2). The HPB shall conduct an inspection of the subject property to determine whether or not the completed improvements are in compliance with the work described and conditions imposed in the approved Part 1 application. Appropriate documentation may include paid contractor's bills and canceled checks, as well as an inspection request by the applicant within two (2) years following approval of the Part 1 application.

On completion of review of the Part 2 application, the HPB shall recommend that the city commission grant or deny the exemption. The recommendation and reasons therefore, shall be provided in writing to the applicant and to the city commission.

A majority vote of the city commission shall be required to approve a Part 2 application and authorize the ad valorem tax exemption. If the exemption is granted, the city commission shall adopt an ordinance.

The property owner shall have the historic preservation exemption covenant recorded in the official records of Alachua County, and shall provide a certified copy of the recorded historic preservation exemption covenant to the city manager or designee.

The effective date of the ad valorem tax exemption shall be January 1 of the year following the year in which the application is approved by the city commission and a historic preservation exemption covenant has been transmitted to the Alachua County Appraiser.

To qualify for an exemption, the property owner must enter into a covenant with the City of Gainesville for the term for which the exemption is granted. The covenant shall be binding on the current property owner, transferees, and their heirs, successors, or assigns.

Violation of the covenant or agreement will result in the property owner being subject to the payment of the differences between the total amount of taxes which would have been due in March in each of the previous years in which the covenant or agreement was in effect had the property not received the exemption and the total amount of taxes actually paid in those years, plus interest on the difference calculated as provided in F.S. § 212.12(3), as amended.

Please review City of Gainesville Code of Ordinances Section 25-61 for qualification and process information.

City Of Gainesville Code of Ordinances Section 25-65

Sec. 25-65. - Procedure for obtaining tax exemption.

- (a) Application. An applicant (owner of record or authorized agent) seeking an ad valorem tax exemption for historic properties must file with the city manager or designee the two-part Historic Preservation Property Tax Exemption Application with "Part 1: Preconstruction Application" (Part 1) completed. In addition, the applicant shall submit the following:
  - (1) A completed application for a Certificate of Appropriateness for the qualifying restoration, renovation, or rehabilitation.
  - (2) An application fee of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) to be determined by the city manager or designee based on the estimated cost of the work to be performed and the administrative costs to be incurred by the city in processing the application and monitoring compliance.
- (b) Review by property appraisers office. Upon receipt of the preconstruction application, the city manager or designee will transmit the application to the Alachua County Property Appraiser's office, which will review and provide an estimate of the probable increase in the appraisal of the property to the applicant and the City. The applicant can withdraw the application within forty-five (45) days of receiving the estimate and be reimbursed for the filing fee.
- (c) Review by historic preservation board.
  - (1) The City of Gainesville Historic Preservation Board (HPB) shall review Part 1 applications for exemptions. The HPB shall determine whether the property is an eligible property and whether the Part 1 proposed improvement is consistent with the Secretary of Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings and is therefore an eligible improvement.
  - (2) For improvements intended to protect or stabilize severely deteriorated historic properties or archaeological sites, the HPB shall apply the following additional standards:
    - a. Before applying protective measures that are generally of a temporary nature and imply future historic preservation work, an analysis of the actual or anticipated threats to the property shall be made.
    - b. Protective measures shall safeguard the physical condition or environment of a property or archaeological site from further deterioration or damage caused by weather or other natural, animal or human intrusions.
    - c. If any historic material or architectural features are removed, they shall be properly recorded and, is possible, stored for future study or reuse.
    - d. Stabilization shall reestablish the structural stability of a property through the reinforcement of loadbearing members or by arresting material deterioration leading to structural failure. Stabilization shall also reestablish weather resistant conditions for a property.

- e. Stabilization shall be accomplished in such a manner that it detracts as little as possible from the property's appearance. When reinforcement is required to reestablish structural stability, such work shall be concealed wherever possible so as to not intrude upon or detract from the aesthetic and historical quality of the property, except where concealment would result in the alteration or destruction of historically significant material or spaces.
- (3) For applications submitted under the provisions of section 25-64, the HPB shall also determine that the property meets the standards set forth in that section.
  - (4) The HPB shall notify the applicant and the city commission in writing of the results of its review and shall make recommendations for correction of any planned work deemed to be inconsistent with the requirements for an eligible improvement.
  - (5) When an applicant is applying jointly for the ad valorem tax exemption and for federal historic preservation tax credits, the applicant will complete the National Park Service's (NPS) federal tax credit application and Part 1 of the historic preservation property tax exemption application and submit both to the city manager or designee. The HPB shall defer action on the applications until the NPS has rendered a determination. In the event the NPS approves the federal tax credit application, the Part 1 application shall be amended to reflect any conditions issued by the NPS. The HPB shall then approve the tax exemption application and forward it to the city commission to be handled as part of the normal approval process set forth below. A denial by the NPS shall cause the HPB to deny the ad valorem tax exemption.
- (d) Request for review of completed work application.
- (1) Upon completion of work specified in the "Part 1" application, the applicant shall submit a "Part 2: Final Application for Review of Completed Work" (Part 2). The HPB shall conduct an inspection of the subject property to determine whether or not the completed improvements are in compliance with the work described and conditions imposed in the approved Part 1 application. Appropriate documentation may include paid contractor's bills and canceled checks, as well as an inspection request by the applicant within two (2) years following approval of the Part 1 application.
  - (2) On completion of review of the Part 2 application, the HPB shall recommend that the city commission grant or deny the exemption. The recommendation and reasons therefor, shall be provided in writing to the applicant and to the city commission. The applicant shall be given at least ten (10) days notice of the date of the public hearing of the city commission on the requested exemption. If a denial is recommended, and the applicant submits elevations and plans which indicate that the applicant intends to undertake the work necessary to comply with the recommendations of the HPB, the denial of the application may be continued by the city manager or designee for a period of time not to exceed sixty (60) days, while the applicant makes a good faith effort to comply with the recommendations. The applicant may resubmit documents indicating that the reasons for recommendation of denial of the application have been remedied and the city manager or designee will reinspect the work.

- (e) Approval by city commission. A majority vote of the city commission shall be required to approve a Part 2 application and authorize the ad valorem tax exemption. The commission, in overturning or modifying the recommendation of the historic preservation board shall utilize the same standards as used by the historic preservation board in reaching its decision. If the exemption is granted, the city commission shall adopt an ordinance that includes the following:
- (1) The name of the owner and the address of the historic property for which the exemptions granted.
  - (2) The date on which the ten-year exemption will expire.
  - (3) A finding that the historic property meets the requirements of this article.
  - (4) A copy of the historic preservation exemption covenant, as provided in section 25-66, signed by the applicant and the mayor-commissioner or designated successor.
- (f) Notice to property appraiser. The property owner shall have the historic preservation exemption covenant recorded in the official records of Alachua County, and shall provide a certified copy of the recorded historic preservation exemption covenant to the city manager or designee. Within fifteen (15) days of receipt of the certified copy, the city manager designee shall transmit a copy of the approved "Part 2: Final Application", as well as the historic preservation exemption covenant to the Alachua County Property Appraiser with instructions that the property appraiser provide the ad valorem tax exemption to the applicant. Responsibility for paying the recording costs lie with the applicant.
- (g) Effective date of exemption. The effective date of the ad valorem tax exemption shall be January 1 of the year following the year in which the application is approved by the city commission and a historic preservation exemption covenant has been transmitted to the Alachua County Appraiser.
- (h) An applicant previously granted a historic rehabilitation tax exemption by the historic preservation board may undertake additional improvement projects during the exemption period, or following its expiration, and reapply for an additional historic rehabilitation tax exemption for such work. An additional ten-year exemption shall apply only to the additional improvement.

(Ord. No. 950480, § 1, 8-28-95)

Historic Preservation Rehabilitation and Design Guidelines

INTERIOR SPACE, FEATURES & FINISHES

Applicable Secretary Standards

1. A property shall be used for its historic purpose or be placed in a new use that requires minimal change to the defining characteristics of the building and its site and environment.
2. The historic character of a property shall be retained and preserved. The removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that characterize a property shall be avoided.
5. Distinctive features, finishes and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a historic property shall be preserved.
6. Deteriorated historic features shall be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires re- placement of a distinctive feature, the new feature shall match the old in de- sign, color, texture and other visual qualities and, where possible, materials. Replacement of missing features shall be substantiated by documentary, physical or pictorial evidence.
9. New additions, exterior alterations or related new construction shall not destroy historic materials that characterize the property. The new work shall be differentiated from the old and shall be compatible with the massing, size, scale, and architectural features to protect the historic integrity of the property and its environment.

Interior spaces are not reviewed by staff or the board unless a tax exemption has been applied for in conjunction with a rehabilitation. The historic preservation planner should be consulted before any work is undertaken to insure the appropriateness of the rehabilitation project.

An interior floor plan, the arrangement of spaces, built-in features, and applied finishes may be individually or collectively important in defining the historic character of a building. The identification, retention, protection, and repair of these characteristics should be given prime consideration in every rehabilitation project. Caution should be exercised in pursuing any plan that would radically change character-defining spaces or obscure, damage or destroy interior features or finishes.

Under Standard 1, consideration should be given to how to best integrate a new function into an existing historic structure without destroying its character. A new use will have its own set of requirements, and some may not be compatible with the existing character of a building. For example, a historic building with many small rooms would be ill-suited for adaptive use as an art gallery which requires a few large rooms. Similarly, single purpose facilities such as jails, industrial buildings, or social clubs often prove difficult to adapt to other uses without destroying their historic character.

Under Standard 2, interior spaces which define the historic use of a building should be respected. Church sanctuaries, theatre auditoriums, and hotel lobbies and ballrooms should remain intact both for their detailing and their relationship to the building's original use. Obscuring or destroying such significant interior spaces should be avoided.

During the course of a rehabilitation, the significant spatial qualities of a historic interior should be preserved under Standard 9. Spatial qualities are defined by ceiling, wall dimensions, size, number of openings between rooms, and arrangement of rooms that link spaces on a particular floor. Interior alterations should be compatible with these historic spatial qualities. New partitions, floor, or ceiling cuts, and other treatments which adversely alter or destroy significant interior spaces should be avoided.

Recommended

1. Identify, retain, and preserve interior features and finishes that are important in defining the overall historic character of the building, including columns, cornices, baseboards, fireplaces and mantels, paneling, light fixtures, hardware, and flooring; and wallpaper, plaster, paint, and finishes such as stenciling, marbling, and graining; and other decorative materials that accent interior features and provide color, texture, and patterning to walls, floors, and ceilings.
2. Protect and maintain masonry, wood, and architectural metals which comprise interior features through appropriate surface treatments such as cleaning, rust removal, limited paint removal, and reapplication of protective coatings.
3. Protect interior features and finishes against arson and vandalism before project work begins, erecting protective fencing, boarding-up windows, and installing fire alarms systems that are keyed to local protection agencies.
4. Protect interior features such as stair- case, mantel, or decorative finishes and wall coverings against damage during project work by covering them with heavy canvas or plastic sheets.
5. Install protective covering in areas of heavy pedestrian traffic to protect historic features such as wall covering, parquet flooring and paneling.
6. Remove damaged or deteriorated paints and finishes to the next sound layer using the gentlest method possible, then repainting or refinishing using compatible paint or other coating systems.
7. Repaint with colors that are appropriate to the historic building.
8. Limit abrasive cleaning methods to certain industrial or warehouse buildings where the interior masonry or plaster features do not have distinguishing design, detailing, tooling, or finishes; and where wood features are not finished, molded, beaded, or worked by hand. Abrasive cleaning methods should only be considered after other, gentler methods have been proven ineffective.

9. Evaluate the overall condition of materials to determine whether more than protection and maintenance are required, that is, if repairs to interior features and finishes will be necessary.
10. Repair interior features and finishes by reinforcing the historic materials. Repair will also generally include the limited replacement in kind or with compatible substitute materials of those extensively deteriorated or missing parts of repeated features when there are surviving prototypes such as stairs, balustrades, wood paneling, columns; or decorative wall coverings or ornamental tin or plaster ceilings.
11. Replace in kind an entire interior feature or finish that is too deteriorated to repair, if the overall form and detailing is still evident, using the physical evidence to guide the new work. Examples could include wainscoting, a tin ceiling, or interior stairs. If using the same kind of material is not technically feasible, then a compatible substitute material may be considered.
12. Design and install a new interior feature or finish if the historic feature or finish is completely missing. This could include missing partitions, stairs, elevators, lighting fixtures, and wall coverings; or even entire rooms if all historic spaces, features, and finishes are missing or have been destroyed by inappropriate “renovations.” The design may be a restoration based on historical, pictorial, and physical documentation; or be a new design that is compatible with the historic character of the building, district, or neighborhood.
13. Accommodate service functions such as bathrooms, mechanical equipment, and office machines required by the building’s new use in secondary spaces such as first floor service areas or on upper floors.
14. Reuse decorative material or features that have had to be removed during the rehabilitation work, including wall and baseboard trim, door molding, paneled doors, and simple wainscoting. Relocate such material or features in areas appropriate to their historic placement.
15. Install permanent partitions in secondary spaces; removable partitions that do not destroy the sense of space should be installed when the new use requires the subdivision of character-defining interior spaces.
16. Enclose an interior stairway where required by code so that its character is retained. In many cases, glazed fire-rated walls may be used.
17. Place new code-required stairways or elevators in secondary and service areas of the historic building.
18. Create an atrium or a light well to provide natural light when required for the new use in a manner that preserves character-defining interior spaces, features, and finishes as well as the structural system.
19. Add a new floor, if required, for the new use in a manner that preserves character-defining structural features, and interior spaces, features, and finishes.

Not Recommended

1. Removing or radically changing features and finishes which are important in defining the overall historic character of the building so that the character is diminished.
2. Installing new decorative material that obscures or damages character-defining interior finishes or features.
3. Removing paint, plaster, or other finishes from historic surfaces to create a new appearance such as removing plaster to expose surfaces such as brick walls or a chimney piece.
4. Applying paint, plaster or other finishes to surfaces that have been historically unfinished to create a new appearance.
5. Stripping historically painted wood surfaces to bare wood, then applying clear finishes or stains to create a “natural look.”
6. Stripping paint to bare wood rather than repairing or reapplying grained or marble finishes to features such as doors and paneling.
7. Radically changing the type of finish or its color, such as painting a previously varnished wood feature.
8. Failing to provide adequate protection to materials on a cyclical basis so that deterioration of interior features results.
9. Permitting entry into historic buildings through unsecured or broken windows and doors so that interior features and finishes are damaged by exposure to weather or through vandalism.
10. Stripping interiors of features such as woodwork, doors, windows, light features, copper piping, radiators, or decorative materials.
11. Failing to provide proper protection of interior features and finishes during work so that they are gouged, scratched, dented or otherwise damaged.
12. Failing to take new use patterns into consideration so that interior features and finishes are damaged.
13. Using destructive methods such as propane or butane torches or sandblasting to remove paint or other coatings. These methods can irreversibly damage the historic materials that comprise interior features.
14. Using new paint colors that are inappropriate to the historic building.
15. Changing the texture and patina of character-defining features through sandblasting or use of other abrasive methods to remove paint, discoloration or plaster. This includes both exposed wood, including structural members, and masonry.

16. Failing to undertake adequate measures to assure the preservation of interior features and finishes.
17. Replacing an entire feature such as a staircase, paneled wall, parquet floor, or cornice; or finish such as a decorative wall covering or ceiling when re- pair of materials and limited replacement of such parts are appropriate.
18. Using a substitute material for the replacement part that does not convey the visual appearance of the surviving parts or portions of the interior feature or finish or that is physically or chemically incompatible.
19. Removing a character-defining feature or finish that is not repairable and not replacing it; or replacing it with a new feature or finish that does not convey the same visual appearance.
20. Discarding historic material when it can be reused within the rehabilitation project or relocating it in historically appropriate areas.
21. Installing permanent partitions that damage or obscure character-defining spaces, features, or finishes.
22. Enclosing an interior stairway with fire- rated construction so that the stairwell space or any character-defining features are destroyed.
23. Creating a false historical appearance because the replaced feature is based on insufficient physical, historical, and pictorial documentation or on information derived from another building.
24. Introducing a new interior feature or finish that is incompatible with the scale, design, materials, color, and texture of surviving interior features and finishes.
